Clarinet Gala 2019

featuring the Ohio University Clarinet Studio and the Honors Clarinet Choir, comprised of outstanding high school and college students from all over the region

A full day of events for clarinetists of all ages and interests hosted by Rebecca Rischin, Professor of Clarinet, in collaboration with Flute Fest, hosted by Alison Brown Sincoff, Professor of Flute; and Bassoon Extravaganza, Matthew Morris, Associate Lecturer of Bassoon.

With visiting artist Steven Cohen, Associate Professor of Clarinet at Northwestern University in Evanston, IL.

Saturday, March 23, 2019 8:30am-6:00pm

Students, teachers, band directors, amateurs and professionals welcome. Registration at the door for $20. Registration free for Honors Clarinet Choir participants who have paid the acceptance fee and for their relatives. All events will be in Robert Glidden Hall (the music building). Bring your clarinet to play along on the 5:00pm program!

Directions/Parking: From Route 33, take Ohio University campus exit Rt. 682. At the Convocation Center/Stadium, turn right onto Richland Ave. Turn left on Court Street. Turn right on E. Union. Robert Glidden Hall (3 Health Center Drive, Athens, OH 45701) is located at the foot of the driveway just past the intersection of College and E. Union. There is a public parking garage at College and Washington. They accept quarters and the Parkmobile app. You can also park for free all day Saturday in any OU parking lot labelled dark green or purple. Go to <https://www.ohio.edu/parking> to download a parking map. The closest dark green and purple lots are 40, 41, 43, 44, and 104.
